CALLING COACHES

WHAT WILL IT COST ME?

1. Time 5 minutes! – You need to sign up as a coach within the Spa, give your coaching information and you will be put on our coaching email list.
2. Some of your teaching (Audio, Video, Document); something that isn't your 'core' but a member can get value from and use. A teaching, a 3-day challenge, some exercises or other.
3. Our basic level members will see your contribution and can access you, via us, if they want to book a direct coaching session.
4. Our coaching level members will have access to an email address of yours, to ask questions based on your contribution or some other matter. This will be the only time factor, it's also a chance to engage more professionally with our members.
5. Join our Facebook group and help provide insights or support if you feel you can.
6. No need to constantly be in the Spa or group or regularly give teaching, it can be a one-off contribution.
7. Once/twice a month, support the Spa by doing a social share of an event, workshop, webinar or similar; you may also be tagged in posts where we want to talk about your contribution.

BENEFITS!

1. We get regular (daily) requests for PR angles from journalists, we will be forwarding those onto our coaching list.
2. Our club will have corporate members, we will be helping to promote workplace support for those coaches who can visit workplaces for business/corporate support.
3. Diverse and alternative income streams and business opportunities.
4. Coaching leads, workshop opportunities and international networking.

It takes around 5 minutes to sign up and fill out a biography. Your teaching is linked to your bio profile so members will know who you are! Send your material over for approval and join our social group. That's it!

We are getting enquiries and sign ups from the UK, Europe, USA and wider by coaches who are wanting to join. Published authors, field experts, niche owners, public speakers and more.
